

Classic variety chocolates are an exceptional standard variety of chocolates that come in a great selection of flavours.

Signature chocolates are made with slightly more expensive chocolate and have some amazing flavour choices that are different from the classic variety. These are the more decorative chocolates and the price difference is attributed enhancements such as these decorations.

In each box we will give you a nice variety of our various chocolates. Have a nice mix of both signature and classic chocolates gives a box the wonderful distinctive look that we have.

If you would like something different than what is listed below we can make any combination of the signature and classic chocolates that we offer.
